100 years from V. N. Sukachev's birth

Nikolay V. Dilis

Abstract

The paper deals with the life and works of an eminent Soviet biologist, academician V. N. Sukachev, the hundredth anniversary of whose birth is June 7, 1980. He was the founding father of several new research directions in biology, especially of biogeocenology. His works played an important role in the development of geobotany and forest science. He was a first-rate organizer of science; he founded several research departments in various institutes of the USSR.
